

The Steel Mansion Project

Located in Painesville, OH

THE CHALLENGE

A system was needed that would not disrupt the architectural integrity of the beautiful Steel Mansion. The system needed to be efficient and provide maximum comfort at an affordable cost.

THE SOLUTION

Jacco installed Samsung's DVM S Heat Pump System. The installation included two 10-ton modular outdoor units and nineteen indoor units. The units are designed to be installed without running ductwork throughout the entire facility. In addition, the units are disguised with a decorative cover to fit in with the decor so there was not a need to conceal them from visitors. The units run quietly, to not disrupt visitors, while providing maximum comfort at minimal operating costs.

Additional benefits included:

- 3rd Generation Technology dual inverter compressors and an upgraded vapor injection system
- Top class Energy Efficiency Ratio providing simultaneous heating and cooling efficiency
- 4% higher European Seasonal Energy Efficiency Ratio than competitors
- Wide operating temperature allowance
